

home
of the innocents

1880

Our doors opened in 1880 to provide care and shelter to children whose parents were unable to provide for them. Over time, society became more aware of the need to promote the wellbeing of children. We said...

We'll be the change.

1975

We increased our capacity, merging with similar organizations to ensure the safety of more children. In 1975, the Jewish Home for Convalescent Children needed a place for its pediatric nursing services. We said...

We'll be the change.

2003

Our growing impact in the community brought need for expansion. In 2003, we moved to our 22-acre campus, which included a 46-bed Complex Care Center that was quickly filled. In 2010, we added 30 more beds to meet the needs of our region. We said...

We'll be the change.

2024

The demand for our services has only increased, and those 76 beds in our Complex Care Center remain full as we operate at capacity. We've again reached the point where expansion and renovation are essential. We said...

We'll be the change.

Looking Ahead

We will add 50 more beds to our Complex Care Center, once again increasing our service capacity for children and young adults with complex medical needs. With the dedication of our team members and support from individuals like you...

We'll be the change.

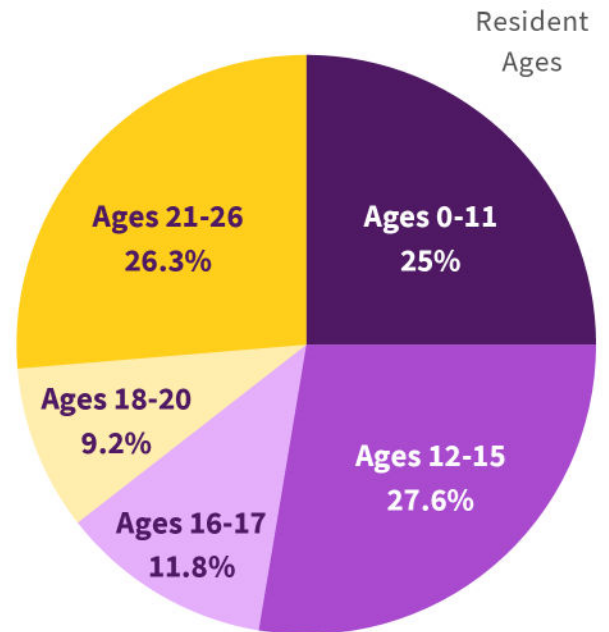

Our Complex Care Center

One-of-a-Kind Facility

Our Kosair for Kids Complex Care Center (KCC) is Kentucky's only pediatric skilled nursing facility. With a 76-bed capacity, the KCC is home to 76 of the state's most medically complex children and young adults.

Our Residents

Residents within the KCC have a total of 409 active diagnoses and an average of 26.78 diagnoses per child. Today, more than a quarter of them are age 21 or older. Within the next few years, this segment will increase to a third. For every resident over age 21 who cannot be moved to a new home, a child with medical complexities goes without care.

New Nurses' Station

New Neighborhood Entrance

Resident Bedroom

A Gap in Care

Over 30% of young adult residents have nowhere to go upon turning 21 years old. Other nursing facilities cannot provide our level of care for various reasons:

- Many nursing facilities only accept residents who are 55+ years old.
- Nursing ratios required to meet the needs of young adults are higher than facilities can provide.
- Other facilities cannot meet the high respiratory needs of our residents.

Of the residents discharged from our care after turning 21, 1/3 pass away after only 18 months.

Increasing Our Impact

Plans include renovating the 5 current neighborhoods and building an expansion that's nearly 80,000 square feet on the eastern edge of the Home's 22-acre campus. This new building will accommodate 4 new neighborhoods and 50 additional residents.

Placement of the building allows the Home to optimize flexibility and create efficiencies through shared operations with the existing facility. We are excited to expand our Complex Care Center from 76 beds to 126 beds to better serve Kentucky's children with medical complexities.

Expansion Exterior

Renovations to Current Neighborhood

Increased Activity Space for Current Neighborhoods

Expansion Interior

Will you be the change?

You can make a difference in the lives of current and future residents at the Home. With your support, they will have the opportunity to age in place, maintaining a quality of life only we can provide.

Your belief in our mission means we can continue to enrich the lives of children and families with hope, health, and happiness for generations to come.

Together, we'll be the change.

BE THE CHANGE

Zach

Addison

Matthew

Halley

Zach

1100 East Market Street

Louisville, KY 40206

502.596.1000

homeoftheinnocents.org